At Home in Leonardtown featuring . . .

The War of 1812 was an armed conflict between the United States and Great Britain that officially began on June 18, 1812. Though there were few battles in Southern Maryland, the British continually harassed coastline residents. On July 19, 1814 British forces sailed into Breton Bay, landing on what is believed to be the area known today as Leonardtowntown Wharf. They marched on the tiny town of Leonardtown (population 300) and plantations to the east and west, invading buildings and stores, raiding firearms, tobacco, flour, and other provisions. But victory was not as easy as it seemed. Town residents convinced the British commander with his force of 1,500 not to burn the courthouse since it was sometimes used as a place of worship, and to move on out of town. And that, say event organizers, is worth commemorating!

While Leonardtown evaded burning of the courthouse, you and your family will not want to pass up all the excitement of "Raiders & Invaders" Weekend, June 6th, 7th, and 8th, 2014. This history-filled event is part of the State of Maryland's War of 1812 Chesapeake Campaign – a year of bicentennial events and activities that follow the 1814 British push up the Chesapeake Bay and Patuxent River to Washington D.C. and Baltimore. Leonardtown will be the focal point for activities, with a satellite site at Sotterley Plantation. We've come a long way over the past 200 years, and these three days of excitement and celebration are your one chance to relive local history!

The weekend of fun kicks off at 5 PM on June 6th with a Raiders & Invaders First Friday celebration, which builds upon Leonardtown's established and thriving First Fridays tradition. Highlights include 1812, Tide of War Concert Project: a music and history concert performance where musician Gary Rue will team-up with historian Don Shomette to create a blend of music and narrative that brings the War of 1812 life in the Chesapeake to you can also see the Theater, featuring the Newtowne Players, conjuring up British soldiers and townsfolk alike in a recipe that mixes history with a splash (or two) of revisionist fun.

A "Raiders & Invaders" War of 1812 Weekend

The North End Gallery will host an opening reception and present War of 1812 Revisited...Through the Artist's Eyes, with exhibits reflecting on the War of 1812 in Southern Maryland and featuring work by some of our finest regional artists. More original artworks and exhibits will be displayed at Walters Art Gallery, where the Color and Light Society host "Salute to Our History". The St. Mary's County Historical Society in Tudor Hall Mansion will host an opening reception for People and Events of the War of 1812, an exhibit that features a series of period-style portraits by artist Nicole Stewart and educational displays about the people and events of the War of 1812. As you take to the streets, keep an eye out for actors from Sotterley's "The Choice" and a variety of 1812-themed activities offered by Leonardtowntown shops and restaurants.

The Port of Leonardtowntown Winery will unveil a special souvenir bottle and release its limited edition Raider's Red Wine, vinted specifically for this event.

On Saturday, June 7th, the past comes to life at 12 Noon with the main festival in downtown Leonardtowntown. Visitors will delight in a wide range of live music and musical styles, from the maritime sounds of the Ship's Company Chanteymen to the folk(ish) sounds of ilyAIMY, humorous sounds of Matthew Dodd taking listeners back in time, the rich vocals and harmonies of Harmony Grit, original sea songs with Calico Jenny, and R & B and signature patriotic arrangements with the Downrange U. S. Army Band.

Entertainment around Town includes story-telling by Ming Diaz, traditional circus arts and juggling by Old Bay Circus, street theater by the Newtowne Players, and more. Visitors will also find arts and crafts activities, 1812-related exhibits, costumed re-enactors, lectures and historical demonstrations such as spinning, lace-making, blacksmithing, open-fire cooking, pastimes and artillery drills. At historic Tudor Hall, enjoy live entertainment and drift back into history with 1812 exhibits and genealogy studies, and stroll over to the Town Hall for lectures focusing on 1812. Visit the Old Jail Museum to see a display of clothing styles of the era, including a British naval officer's uniform. The Food Court near Tudor Hall will feature local favorites such as seafood and stuffed ham, while the Tavern Tent in the Town Square will offer craft beer and award-winning local wines from local vines.

Mayor's Message

The feature article in this edition of the Leonardtown Beacon highlights the action-packed "Raiders and Invaders" Weekend coming to our Town June 6th–June 8th. The planning for this event began more than a year ago, and is a shining example of partnerships at their best. The efforts and ideas by staff from St. Mary's County Tourism, the Town Office, St. Mary's County Historical Society, Historic Sotterley, the College of Southern Maryland and the Leonardtown Business Association, have orchestrated an event unlike any other local event.

This three-day, multi-component experience for all ages takes place in Leonardtown and throughout St. Mary's County as part of the State of Maryland's War of 1812 Chesapeake Campaign. With so much planned to see and do, everyone attending will have a lot of fun, and learn about our region's rich history, too!

Be sure to mark your calendars to attend all aspects of this grand event! If you, or an organization you belong to, are interested in participating as a volunteer and being a part of history in the making, we would love to hear from you. My family and I are especially excited about the water-related activities and waterside concerts to be held at Leonardtown Wharf – it's an opportunity for everyone to enjoy this wonderful waterfront asset that we embrace. I hope that you will enjoy "Raiders and Invaders" Weekend and invite your relatives and friends to experience the magic of Leonardtown!

Deputy's Corner

Several scams have recently made their way into St. Mary's County, taking victims for thousands of dollars. The "Ring and Run" scam is a computer program originating outside the US that lets the phone ring one or two times, not leaving a voice message or enough time to answer, in the hopes that you will call back the "mysterious" number. Victims calling back will not get an answer, just a strange sound, and are hit with a charge, typically $19.95, that appears on their phone bill. These scam calls originate from: (268) Antigua or Barbuda, (809) Dominican Republic, (876) Jamaica, (284) British Virgin Islands, (473) Grenada and (649) Turks and Caicos. Do not answer these calls or call back.

Another popular scam involves calls from "Prize Distribution Centers" claiming you are a winner. You will be enticed to make a small payment for paperwork, handling, etc., promising your prize will be sent to you. Once your payment is received, you most likely will not hear back from the company and your prize winnings will never arrive. Sometimes these scam artists make additional calls to solicit more money to "straighten out a matter" and ask you to make payment using a Green Dot Money Pak card before you can receive your prize winnings that again, will not arrive.

Citizens are reminded to never provide personal information to unknown persons, or send money by wire transfer unless you are the initiator and know the person you are sending it to. If you become the victim of a phone scam, contact the Sheriff's Office at 301-475-8008 to report the incident.
